- (b) if at the end date the member pension partner was vested but was not yet within 10 years of pensionable age and has not yet commenced to receive a pension, be transferred to a locked-in retirement account belonging to the non-member pension partner, or
- (c) if at the end date the member pension partner was vested and was within 10 years of or had already attained pensionable age and has not yet commenced to receive a pension, at the non-member pension partner's option, either
 - (i) be transferred to a locked-in retirement account belonging to the non-member pension partner,
 - (ii) if the event date is not when the member pension partner dies, be so transferred at the member pension partner's event date, or

 - (B) be so transferred at that event date, if the benefit then is a pension.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where the non-member pension partner is entitled to choose and chooses a delayed division and the member pension partner dies before the distribution is made, the benefit payable under Division 2 of Part 5 of the Plan's plan rules applies.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where a pension has already commenced to be paid at the time the matrimonial property order is made, the non-member pension partner's share is to be paid directly to the non-member pension partner in the form of a pension which, for the purposes of the Plan, is a portion of the member pension partner's pension.

Adjustment of member pension partner's benefit

39(1) References in this section to the member pension partner's benefit, if the event date is that individual's death, are to the benefit payable on the death.

(2) After the division date, the Board shall adjust the member pension partner's benefit using the relevant calculations set out in this section.

(3) If the member pension partner's pension commencement occurred before the making of the matrimonial property order, the member pension partner's pension as at the division date shall be decreased by the amount of the total pre-division benefit multiplied by the division factor.

(4) If subsection (3) does not apply, the member pension partner's benefit shall be reduced at the member pension partner's event date to take into account the non-member pension partner's share in accordance with subsections (5) and (6).

(5) If the benefit consists of employee contributions, the benefit shall be reduced by the sum of the non-member pension partner's share at the end date and interest thereon from the end date to the event date.

(6) If the benefit consists of a pension, the pension shall be reduced by A where

$$A = B \times C \times D \times E$$

B = the total pre-division benefit, calculated on the assumption (whether so or not) that the member pension partner was vested at the end date

C = the division factor

D = the factor, equal to or greater than 1, representing the compound effect of the annual cost of living increases, if any, between the end date and the event date, actually applied for the purposes of the Plan under the plan rules

E = the factor representing the reduction to be applied when pension commencement occurs before pensionable age that is applied for the purposes of this provision by the Board in respect of the Plan.

- (b) the first date of accumulation of pensionable service by the member pension partner under the Plan,
- (c) the amount of pensionable service accumulated by the member pension partner up to the date referred to in clause (a) and the amount of pensionable service accumulated during the period of joint accrual,

(5) A non-member pension partner is a prescribed person for the purposes of section 25(2)(c) of the Act to the extent that the Board considers that the employment information (within the meaning of section 25(1)(c) of the Act) is required

- (a) to determine the entitlement under this Part of a married or formerly married individual referred to in subsection (1), or
- (b) to complete the division and distribution pursuant to a filed matrimonial property order.

Application to Court for clarification

42(1) If, on the filing of a matrimonial property order, the Board is unable to comply with it because it is incomplete, it does not comply with this Part or there is doubt as to what exactly the Board must do to comply with it, the Board may apply to the Court to redress the situation arising from that inability so to comply.

(2) An application under subsection (1) must be supported by an affidavit and must be made on 7 days' notice or any shorter period that the Court allows.

(3) The costs of an application under subsection (1) are to be borne by both or either of the pension partners, as decided by the Court and, to the extent that any such costs are paid by the Board, the Board has a right to set off the amount of those costs against any benefit payable under the plan to the pension partners, according to the Court's decision on the costs.
